

From the start of January 2013, drivers will be required to ensure that the Authority's database is continually updated with the details of the vehicle that they are operating. It is intended that this notification process will be phased in during the month of January. For the many drivers who own and operate a single vehicle, they will only need to make this notification once on that vehicle.

A web portal will be put in place from the start of January and guidance on how to register and use the simple on-line notification system will be issued. An easy-to-use smartphone app will also be available. In addition, the existing SPSV industry support line will be able to accept these notifications.

The driver to vehicle link will be effective from 7th January 2013; the notification process will only become mandatory from 31st January 2013.
