1. Introduction

1.1 Introduction

Expressway is the brand name for Bus Éireann's commercial intercity and interurban network of bus services. These services are licensed by the National Transport Authority under the provisions of the Public Transport Regulation Act, 2009 and the Authority's published 'Guidelines for the Licensing of Public Bus Passenger Services'¹. Similar to other commercial bus operators under license to the Authority, Bus Éireann receives no Public Service Obligation (PSO)² compensation for the provision of Expressway services.

² 'public service obligation' means a requirement defined or determined by a competent authority in order to ensure public passenger transport services in the general interest that an operator, if it were considering its own commercial interests, would not assume or would not assume to the same extent or under the same conditions without reward.(REG. 1370/2007)

3. Conclusion

3.1 Conclusion

The range and availability of alternative public transport services from the locations affected by the withdrawal of Bus Éireann Route X7 is considered to be adequate to meet demand.

The Authority is primarily concerned that transport links that allow the public to access ordinary every-day services are available. These socially necessary needs would include being able to reach the local market town or urban centre to be able to carry out tasks such as visiting a doctor, dentist physiotherapist or optician; be able to go clothes shopping; having access to a greater variety of shops selling food or drinks items, et cetera.

Where possible, it is desirable to be able to link passengers into bigger transport hubs where they may be able to interchange and continue their journey onto urban centres.

The Authority has determined therefore that the current level of services provided by JJ Kavanagh & Sons on Route 717 between Clonmel, Grangemockler, Callan, Kilkenny and Dublin City and Airport, by Local Link on Route 817C between Carrick-on-Suir and Grangemockler, by Dublin Coach between Kilkenny and Dublin City and by Iarnród Éireann between Kilkenny and Dublin are adequate to meet the social need for the affected locations.

The Authority will make arrangements for adjustments to be made to Route 817C to provide connections for onward travel by JJ Kavanagh & Sons Route 717 towards Kilkenny and Dublin and vice versa. The revised timetable of services on Route 817C is shown in Appendix H and includes the provision of a new direct service to and from Callan for the Camphill Communities of Ireland.
