

MARCHATHON

3rd to 30th March 2025

My idea, to encourage teams and participants to go for a walk, is to create a word or shape, while tracking your steps on a map of where you have walked.

You could walk in your local park and try to spell out, your team name, the acronym for Transport for Ireland, TFI, or your organisation. A screenshot of the mapped path you took to be submitted. You could track your walk and submit the accompanying image to enter the competition. You could alternatively try to walk the outline of a shape, like a heart.

Team element – each person on your team is responsible for a couple of letters and together it spells out a word.

My attempt below for my department – DECC!
